SETON INDIAN WORK

The Seton Indian work proved the most enjoyable feature of the Chautauqua last season for the boys and girls. It will be better still this season. Tepees pitched on the grounds.

Suits at Rose & Buckner's.

The First Day---MONDAY---The First Day

For an evenly balanced program, no stars, but all standard attractions, the management commends the first day offering. Adrain Newens (remember what we say) will prove the best on the program, and Arthur MacMurray is a close second.

DAILY DIET HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN

Food Specialist.

ALBUMEN IN THE DIET.

Albumen is the most important element of food—if it can be said that one necessary element is more important than another. Flesh is chiefly albumen, and to make cells of brain, liver or arm, albumen must be supplied in the food. In milk, the natural food of the young, we find about ten per cent. of the solid constituents albumen. The by-products of albumen are eliminated through the kidneys, with greater expenditure of energy than is required for any other—rheumatism, Bright's disease and other diseases resulting from failure to eliminate them properly. An exclusive diet of meat will give good results for a short time only. Nuts and cereals are natural sources of albumen, although nuts contain too large a percentage, and must be balanced with fruit which contains little albumen; an ideal ration being a substantial proteid meal of whole grain bread, never fresh, and peanuts or walnuts and a meal of prunes and apples with a tablespoon of olive or peanut oil. Albumen should be taken in its natural state uncoagulated by heat. Peanuts are injured by roasting.

Congress has had a hot time, but the statesmen will cool off quickly.

Cameron News: Every picture of the devil in human form represents him as very tall, very slender and elegantly dressed. The fat men need all the comfort they can get, and may find some in this.

All of the acts of the last Legislature, except those having an emergency clause, will go into effect on the 17th day of August. In a few weeks after that date it will be seen to what extent the Legislature changed conditions in this State.

A C. & A. employee told us that his road intends building a new bridge at Turtle Lake, several miles west of the Glasgow bridge. While this is not official, it is quite probable that such a step may be taken and it will mean much to the farmers of West Glasgow.

Has any one noticed on the subscriptions taken for the flood sufferers the names of Montgomery, Ward & Co., or Sears, Roebuck & Co., or any of the mail order houses of the cities? It is the home men who contribute to relief in time of need.—Gallatin Democrat.

The Sweet Springs Chautauqua was a success although in our opinion it was handicapped by having omitted its morning program and by having it so early in the season. With these points in our favor and a larger town, our chautauqua ought to be a "howling" success.

Governor Jacob F. Gmelich is the chief executive of Missouri at the present writing—and he likes it. With health restored and hosts of devoted friends to rely upon he is in good condition to preside over the executive affairs of the State as long as our beloved young Governor may be absent.

Missouri farmers are just now too busy selling wheat for more than a dollar a bushel, and other crops at high prices, to listen to Democratic Congressmen as they orate against the tariff and Republican policies, so the Democratic members of Congress from Missouri had as well take a rest through the summer.

Speaking of the high water, Geo. W. Madison, one of the flood sufferers of near New Frankfort said that he believed the floods are growing worse because the river is being neglected. He says that the river keeps cutting at the bank and filling the channel with the best farms and becomes more shallow and more susceptible to an overflow every year. But if the government kept snag boats busy and river traffic was carried on he thinks the channel would become deeper and swifter. His idea is a new but good one.

With previous experiences fresh in mind, we hope our chautauqua managers will see that our local orators are muzzled or curbed before the chautauqua occurs. Nothing will kill an enterprise of this kind quicker than to let a speaker inflict himself upon an audience of several thousands when they have given their time and money to hear something worth hearing. We feel like furnishing the squirt gun to "douse" the first man stealing more than five minutes of the public's time.

Press Clippings.

Kingston Mercury: The latest fad for ladies is playing croquet barefooted for nervousness. This ought to revive the old game rapidly.

Drover's Telegram: Lightning struck a Missouri mule near Gallatin the other day. At the latest accounts the lightning was doing as well as could be expected.

"So you want to be my son-in-law do you?" fiercely inquired the old man when the youth declared his intentions. "No, not by a d—d sight!" retorted the young man.

"but I reckon I'll have to be—for I purpose to marry your daughter!"

Emporia Gazette: Backward, turn backward, O Time—hear me speak! Give us a drouth again, just for a week! Turn on the sunlight and cut out the rain, send us a wind that will dry things again! I am so weary of torrent and flood weary of sloshing around in the mud, weary of pawing in water and muck, weary of wishing for feet like a duck. Give a few twists at the dry weather crank plug up the hole in the rainwater tank, send us the climate they keep in the hole in the rainwater tank, send us a drouth! Backward, turn backward, O tide of the years! I am all covered with gumbo and clay, I am in danger of washing away. Cut out the cloudbursts and cyclone and squall, give us a chance to be playing baseball! We are bedraggled and down in the mouth—give us a drouth again, give us a drouth.

LaBelle Star: It is a little strange what people will do for a good time. Did you ever think of it? They will get up at 3 o'clock in the morning to go to a picnic, they will be jammed into cars like sardines in a box, they will sit on damp ground, they will eat custard pie and pickles and cheese, and drink ice cold water, orange juice and soda pop, they will ride the merry-go-round, although swinging makes their heads swim, they will get back into cars and with a sweaty, sticky feeling to the music of a cry

Room No. 220, ABIEL LEONARD, MARSHALL, MISSOURI.

"See you fat fowl," whispered the tall tramp at the water tank "would thou enjoy him?" "Yeas," yawned the laziest tramp in all states and territories, "if de engine killed him, a cyclone whirled all his feathers off and de lightning struck the dry grass and baked him nice and brown, I would enjoy him, pard, yes verily."

Some smart Alec says that a wagon maker who had been dumb for a year picked up a hub and spoke; a blind carpenter, on the same day, reached out for a plane and saw; a deaf farmer went out with his dog and herd; an elephant inserted his trunk in a grate and flue; and a bedbug listened to a bed tick.

Little Muriel flew into the house flushed and breathless. "Oh, mother," she cried, "don't scold me for being late at tea, for I've had such a disappointment! A horse fell and they said they were going to send for a horse doctor, so of course, I had to stay, and after I'd waited and waited, he came, and oh, mother, what do you think? It wasn't a horse doctor at all. It was only a man!"

One of the wives of a mormon coming down stairs one morning met the physician who was attending her husband: "Is he very ill?" she asked anxiously. "He is," replied the physician, "I fear the end is not far off." "Do you think," she asked, "I should be at his bedside during his last moments?" "Yes, but I advise you to hurry. The best places are already taken."

Youth's Companion: At a public school not long ago the children were training for the annual flag day celebration. One boy in order to show good reason why he should take a prominent part in often does not agree with her appearance. Pain and suffering add to the years till many women look much older than they really are.

Many women, avoiding pain by the regular use of that effective remedy, for women, Wine of Cardui, keep their youth and beauty.

Take CARDUI

Mrs. Annie Vaughan, Raleigh, N. C., tried Cardui and writes:

"I was sick and worn out almost unto death. My sister finally persuaded me to take Cardui. Before I had taken five bottles I was well and strong."

the ceremonies, said that he had a real gun; another had a pistol; a small girl had a flag and so on. Finally, one tow-haired lad of six came up to the teacher and stood waiting for her to see him. "Well, what is it?" she asked. "I has a union suit," he said.
